THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE

Thedford's Black-Draught comes nearer regulating the entire system and keeping the body in health than any other medicine made. It is always ready in any emergency to treat ailments that are frequent in any family, such as indigestion, biliousness, colds, diarrhœa, and stomach aches.

Thedford's Black-Draught is the standard, never-failing remedy for stomach, bowel, liver and kidney troubles. It is a cure for the domestic ills which so frequently summon the doctor. It is as good for children as it is for grown persons. A dose of this medicine every day will soon cure the most obstinate case of dyspepsia or constipation, and when taken as directed brings quick relief.

DANVILLE, ILL., Dec. 23, 1902.
Thedford's Black-Draught has been our family doctor for five years and we want no other. When any of us feel badly we take a dose and are all right in twelve hours. We have spent lots of money for doctor bills, but get along just as well with Black-Draught. IRA H. BADER.

Ask your dealer for a package of Thedford's Black-Draught and if he does not keep it send 25c. to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn. and a package will be mailed to you.

DO NOT IMITATE.

Take an Effort In Your Work In Life to Be Original.

There are a thousand people who will do faithfully what they are told to one who can lay out a programme or execute it—a thousand who can only follow to one who can lead. It is a rare thing to find a young man who has the power of accomplishment, the ability to put a thing through with the force of originality.

Whatever your work in life, do not follow others. Do not imitate. Do not do things just as everybody else has done them before, but in new, ingenious ways. Show the people in your specialty that precedents do not cut much of a figure with you and that you will make your own programme. Resolve that, whether you accomplish much or little in the world, it shall be original—your own. Do not be afraid to assert yourself in an original way. Originality is power, life; imitation is death. Do not be afraid to let yourself out. You grow by being original, never by copying; by leading, never by following. Resolve that you will be a man of ideas, always on the lookout for improvement. Think to some purpose. There is always a place for an original man.

There is nothing else which will kill the creative faculty and paralyze growth more quickly than following precedents in everything and doing everything in the same old way. I have known progressive young men to stop growing, become hopelessly rutty and lose all their progressiveness by going into their fathers' stores, factories or places of business, where everything was done in the same old fashioned way and precedents were followed in everything. They lost all expansiveness. There was no motive for reaching out for the new and the original, because their fathers would not change, and I have seen these splendid fellows, who might have become great and grand men, shrivel to pygmies in their fathers' ruts.

How many of our business houses are weighted down with machinery, old, antiquated methods, ponderous bookkeeping and out of date appliances when new devices or new methods, with short cut ways of doing things, would enable them to economize greatly on room and get along with much less help! But they cling to the old with a fatal tenacity.

This is why so many old concerns which have been strong and powerful for generations gradually shrink, shrivel, get into ruts and fail, while their newer competitors, the bright young men who have gone out from these houses, do things in a new way, adopt up to date methods, keep up with the times and go on to greater success.—Success.

Champ Clark's Retort.

Champ Clark of Missouri was addressing the house of representatives on one occasion when a rash member interrupted him with some frivolous comment. Mr. Clark fairly shriveled up the man who had "butted in," winding up his scorification in this way: "Mr. Chairman, there was once a tenderfoot who struck the grizzly region looking for bears. He was all got up in the finest hunting garb, and his weapons were the newest that could be obtained. He had come to show the west how to kill grizzlies. He went forth one morning and never came back, and over his remains they raised a stone which bore this epitaph: 'He whistled for the grizzly, and the grizzly came.'"—Kansas City Journal.

How He Was Caught Lying.

Mrs. Nayberleigh—Why, what are you crying about?

Mrs. Youngbride—Well, you know, John is away on a business trip—

Mrs. Nayberleigh—Yes.

Mrs. Youngbride—He writes that he gets out my picture and k-kisses it every day.

Mrs. Nayberleigh — Well, that's surely nothing to cry about.

Mrs. Youngbride — Yes, it is! Just to play a joke on him, I took my picture out of his grip when he started and put one of m-m-mother's in its place!—Cleveland Leader.

Unkind.

Mrs. Minks — I don't want to make a scene, but that man over there is staring at me very offensively.

Mr. Minks—He is, eh? I'll speak to him.

Mrs. Minks (a few minutes later) —Did he apologize?

Mr. Minks—Y-e-s; he said he was looking for his mother and thought at first that you were she.—Illustrated Bits.

Solving the Problem.

George—Women are still pushing their way into all the industries.

Jack—That's so. I have just been discharged to make way for a woman.

"You have? Well, well! What are you going to do now?"

"I am trying to marry the woman."

ABUSE OF THE STOMACH.

Crime of Overeating and the Best Way to Avoid It.

The practice of consuming more food than is required for the nutrition of the body is a very old one. In order to correct it Hippocrates, about 400 years before Christ, advocated the omission of breakfast, a custom that has recently become popular in many places.

The harmfulness of overeating is not so much in the increased burden thrown upon the digestive organs as in the production of an excessive amount of poisonous matter which may become dangerous to life if retained in the system. The poisons are produced either by decomposition of the undigested food or through defective transformation within the organs and tissues.

Most injurious are the products of decomposing animal food—meat, eggs and shellfish—and since the kidneys are engaged more than other organs in the removal of this class of poison, the first indications of serious injury are often found in them.

Before permanent organic disease has been produced, however, there are generally repeated evidences of poisoning of the system in the form of indigestion, headache, vertigo, neuralgic pains, rheumatism, gout or an indefinite sense of illness. Then the appetite fails, the sufferer reduces the amount of food and obtains relief. There may be, however, a sudden alarming attack resembling apoplexy and even more fatal in its result.

When an improvement of the health is recognizable after an accidental or experimental restriction of the diet it should be taken as an indication that the mode of living has not been altogether correct. But it is not always an easy matter to decide upon the best means of correcting the error. A change of diet may fail of the desired effect if it be too abrupt or too radical, and privation is not advisable in all cases. A certain bulkiness of the food is necessary both to comfort and to good digestion, and in many cases an excess is only a relative one. The abandonment of certain articles of food, with more complete mastication of others, is often better than a decrease of the entire quantity consumed. Sometimes indeed the difficulty can be overcome by the administration of laxatives, increased consumption of water and more active exercise. These things enable the system to utilize more fully the food that is eaten.

To determine intelligently the course of treatment in most cases involves an investigation of the digestive capability of the stomach and an examination of the functional integrity of other organs. It is generally more expedient therefore to submit the case to the physician than to be governed by abstract rules or the experiences of other people.—Youth's Companion.

Old Heads and Young Hearts.

"Now, Samuel," said his doting mother, "you are going to see one of the nicest girls tonight you ever met, and I want you to make a good impression. Now, the way to do that is to show appreciation. As some one says, 'Be a good listener.' Now, don't you forget it."

"I won't, mother," answered the dutiful Samuel.

At another house, the one to which Samuel's feet were tending, a loving aunt was saying to her visiting niece:

"Now, if Sam comes, don't you rattle on as if you hadn't any brains. Just you keep quiet and let him do the talking. He'll like you all the better for it."

And to this day those match making women can't understand why those two young folk despise each other.—London Tit-Bits.

Yawning For Health.

A German expert on gymnastics announces that one need not go to a well known equipped gymnasium in search of a course of health giving exercises. Deep yawning practiced as a regular exercise is the cheapest and surest road to perfect health. We are still familiar with the theory that systematic deep breathing is an excellent thing for the lungs, and it is on similar grounds that yawning is recommended. The expansion of the breast bones and the stretching of the arms which accompany a wholehearted yawn, together with the filling of the lungs, form a splendid daily exercise.

His Farm Work.

A professor of the New York Law school was telling his students one day of the need that lawyers occasionally have for a little knowledge of agriculture. "I was reminded of this need once," he declared, "when a young attorney of this city told me about his plans for spending two or three days in the country next summer. 'I want to go to a farm,' the young attorney said, 'and for two or three days do a farm hand's work. I want to shovel hay.'"

DUELING STORIES.

A Combat That Won Applause In the Time of Charles IX.

In its mediaeval form dueling was a serious affair. The loser was not only regarded as under the divine displeasure, but as the absolute property of the victor. He might be hanged or kept prisoner or handed over for disposal to the lady in the case. De Fendilles refused to enter the lists till he had seen a fire lighted and a gallows made ready to hang and burn his enemy after the victory he made so sure of. Another method of the time's barbarism was to drag the beaten man around the field, dead or alive. Even Bayard complied with this most unchivalrous custom. There were doctors of dueling, who were consulted just as were advocates of law, and the institution became entangled in the intricacies of red tape. The regulation about the choice of arms gave rise to many abuses.

A case much admired at the time was that of two gentlemen in the reign of Charles IX. of France, who rowed over to the Isle du Palais in order to be free from interruption. Just as they were about to cross—by themselves and without any seconds—they saw a number of gentlemen making for the quay to get boats and come and separate them. But they ordered the boatmen—they were both in one boat—to hurry and get them across as they were on urgent business. As soon as they touched shore they said to each other no more than "Let us get to work. These people will be here in a minute." And so they did—scarcely crossing swords before each man killed the other. Thus they were found dying side by side.

There was a historic case at Piedmont, in which a fencing master advised a young gentleman under his tuition to fight with dagger and sword and a steel collar around the neck of each duelist, with sharp points above and below. The young man was short of stature, and the arrangement enabled him to look up at his adversary comfortably, while the latter could not look down at all without the risk of nearly cutting his head off by his own exertions. Consequently the young gentleman dispatched him very easily in a couple of strokes.—Chicago News.

What a Laugh Does.

A physician says that there is not one remotest corner or little inlet of the minute blood vessels of the human body that does not feel some wavelet from the convulsions occasioned by good, hearty laughter. The life principle of the central man is shaken to the innermost depths, sending new tides of life and strength to the surface, thus materially tending to insure good health to the persons who indulge therein. The blood moves more rapidly and conveys a different impression to all the organs of the body, as it visits them on the particular mystic journey when the man is laughing, from what is done at other times. For this reason every good, hearty laugh in which a person indulges tends to lengthen his life, conveying, as it does, new and distinct stimulus to the vital forces.—London Standard.

DON'T BE HYPNOTISED,

Hoodwinked, hoodooed, or over-persuaded into accepting a substitute for Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription with its record of nearly 40 years, embracing hundreds of thousands of cures of woman's peculiar ailments. It's the only remedy for woman's ills sold by druggists, that is not full of "booze"—poor whisky, or bad alcohol.

A guarantee of $1000 is offered that "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, opium or other harmful drug. Keeps in any climate.

"Favorite Prescription" is a powerful invigorating tonic, and imparts strength to the whole system and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to attempt to palm off upon you an alcoholic substitute for this world-famed medicine. You know what you want. It's his business to meet that want. When he urges some substitute he's thinking of the larger profit he'll make—not of your welfare.

What Our New Enterprises Mean.

Sonoma's two leading new enterprises, the Sonoma Brewing and Bottling Works and the Sonoma Valley Ice and Cold Storage Company are advertising in the columns of this paper. They should get the support and patronage of this valley. In the first place both concerns are utilizing one of Sonoma's greatest natural advantages—our artesian water. Heretofore our fine wells have been put to no practical use, but now that the gentlemen representing the brewery and ice plant have recognized the advantage we have to offer in that direction, we should all encourage their efforts and use our influence to make the industries they have started permanent and profitable.

Then too, such business enterprises put money into circulation in the town and bring new people in, besides offering employment to the workingman.

The Sonoma Brewing company and Bottling Works has brought three new families to Sonoma already and has given employment to many carpenters, plumbers, painters, etc., and permanent positions to several.

The ice industry has been the means of bringing several here and will mean employment for more if it meets with the encouragement it deserves.

Advantages from this standpoint are preceptible and it also stands to reason that the utilization of our advantages by this capital will attract the attention of other investors to Sonoma Valley.

FELL OFF LAUNCH AND DROWNED

Rollo Smith, a Nephew of G. H. Hotz, Meets Sad Death in Dark Waters of Bay.

Rollo Smith, a nephew of G. H. Hotz, and a former resident of this place, met with a sad mishap on the bay at about one o'clock on Sunday morning which cost him his life. Smith was returning from a dance at the San Francisco Yacht Club, of which he was a popular member, when he fell overboard from the launch Rob Roy which was bringing a number of guests back to San Francisco. The fatality happened a few hundred yards east of the club house, which is located at Sausalito.

There is something mysterious about the occurence in that no one seemed to know how it happened although a young woman in the party calmly told that a man had fallen overboard, some time after Smith was missed from the boat. Why she did not give the alarm instantly if she saw him fall into the dark waters of the bay, is a question. No one seems to have heard the drowning man's cries on the launch, but on the Sausalito shore many heard his cries for help. If the party in the boat had known sooner of the accident Smith might have been rescued, as he was a good swimmer and was clad only in white duck trousers and very light garments. When the launch finally turned back to find him, however, it was too late.

Smith was a head book-keeper for James A. Snook & Co., of San Francisco, and was a very popular young man in fraternal and yachting circles. He was only twenty-six years of age and just about a year ago proved himself a hero by rescuing a fellow-swimmer from drowning.

G. H. Hotz went to San Francisco Sunday night upon receipt of the sad news.

Divorce Case Transferred.

The divorce case of L. D. Batchelor against Susie Batchelor has been transferred from the courts of San Francisco to Sonoma county for trial. The papers have been received at the County Clerk's office, including the restraining order to prevent the selling of property pending the settlement of the case and an order made by the court that the defendant be permitted to visit the children of the litigants. L. D. Batchelor brought suit against his wife, Susie Batchelor, on the grounds of cruelty, alleging several specific acts.

The Daily Chronicle and Index-Tribune only $9 for the two newspapers.

ROYAL TIME AT VALLEJO

Sonoma Ladies Accorded Grand Reception by Woman's Club of Sister City.

One cannot conceive of a more royal time than that accorded by the Woman's Club of Vallejo to the members of the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club, who attended Reciprocity Day there on Saturday last.

The ladies left here on the morning S. P. train, arriving at Vallejo at about eight o'clock, where they were met by a representative delegation of Vallejo Club members and driven to the magnificent residence of Mrs. Mitchell, president of the Hostess Club, where they were entertained to a delicious repast of chocolate and other refreshments after which they were taken on a tour of inspection to the fine library of which Vallejo is so justly proud. The library includes a juvenile department, the gift of the Vallejo Woman's Club at a cost of $500. At ten o'clock a special tug and launches conveyed the ladies to Mare Island, where they were received by Rear Admiral McCalla.

Here they were instructed in all the arts of war, shown the torpedo boat destroyers "Paul Jones" and "Preble" and viewed the Russian cruiser "Lena." They were also invited to visit the chapel and the Admiral's home, where he and his wife received most cordially. The marine band played throughout the stay of the visitors at the island and every attention and courtesy was shown them.

About noon the visitors returned to Vallejo and partook of a fine luncheon in one of the large assembly halls. An orchestra played throughout the feast and there were toasts and speeches, including remarks by Mrs. Robt. P. Hill of the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club.

The next feature of the day was a visit to the naval club-house or Home for Sailors, and to the Woman's Club Park, which includes a fine children's playground in the midst of lawns and flowers.

The clubs then held an afternoon session in the hall, where there was much fine music and several good addresses. At 5:30 the visitors were driven to the train in carriages and automobiles and started homeward, arriving here at seven o'clock.

The Sonoma delegation was most enthusiastic over their reception and declared that to Vallejo, first of all, the laurels are due for royal entertainment and real hospitality. It is a day that will long linger in the memories of those who participated in the day's festivities.

"The Witch of Rosenburg" is the title of a three act drama to be given by the young ladies of the Convent School on the evening of the 17th inst., in Union Hall, Sonoma.

The plot of the drama is laid in a Tyrolese village. Countess Von Rosenburg whose estate it is, resides there; and she, strange to say, takes an inexplicable fancy to the village school-mistress Lotchen. To test Lotchen's character the Countess assumes the role of a witch and by so doing obtains the first clue to Lotchen's parentage which points to her being a niece to the Countess. Throughout the unravelling of the plot many charming scenes will be presented.

Among the many other numbers on the program will be a fancy jig and reel dance by four little tots. A pleasant evening is assured to all.

The cause for which this entertainment is given is a worthy one and should appeal to the heart and conscience of every man and woman in this valley. *

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

DIVORCE SUIT THAT RECALLS SENSATION

Emily Ingram Wants Separation from Coachman She Eloped With When Still the Wife of J. J. Maillard.

Emily Abgail Ingram has brought suit for divorce from William A. Ingram, and the institution of these proceedings recalls a sensation of a few years ago when the woman, then Mrs. J. J. Maillard, wife of a prominent and wealthy Marin county resident and daughter of the rich Tompkins' eloped with an employee, the man from whom she now seeks to be divorced.

As Mrs. Maillard she was one of society's most prominent matrons, highly educated, wealthy and much sought after by the people of her set. She had a magnificent home, two beautiful children, a devoted husband, a maid, butler and coachman. An employee, William A. Ingram, was the cause of her undoing. With him she fell in love, and because she could no longer love her husband, she left home, children, wealth and position and fled with this man, from whom she now asks to be freed by the courts. Society stood aghast when it heard of her folly, but she defied all public opinion, declaring that she did right in going with the man she loved when she could no longer care for her husband. Her husband shortly afterwards got a divorce and she then married Ingram. She was not destined, however, to be happy with him, for he finally wearied of her and at last deserted her, on which grounds she now seeks her divorce. There is a pitiful note in this retribution on the woman who gave up honor, husband and home for the love of a man she could not keep. Happiness has been denied her, and now, save for one child from the second marriage, who is her comfort, she is bereft of all and everything in the world which once promised so much happiness for her.

Jack London Buys Farm.

There have been persistent rumors of late that Jack London, the well-known writer, who is spending the summer at Glen Ellen, will shortly be married to Miss Charmien Kittredge. The rumor has been strengthened by London's purchase Tuesday of the Greenlaw place of 128 acres, above Glen Ellen, and of his declaration that he would build an elegant home on this mountain ranch. Miss Kittredge, who is a niece of Mrs. Eames and a connection of the former editors of the Oakland Monthly, and is a literary girl, having contributed articles to various magazines. She is also an enthusiastic horse-woman.

London and Miss Kittredge are both devotees of horseback riding and are often seen together on the county roads in this vicinity. The author has a bungalow at Glen Ellen, where he does much of his writing. At present he is at work on a serial story for Harper's. The new property he has acquired was held at a fancy figure, but London took it at the price asked. He gave the owner, Robt. P. Hill, to understand that he wanted the place for a fine home and not for commercial purposes. Miss Kittredge took much interest in the deal.

Dexter, who was laid to rest in Mountain Cemetery on Thursday beside her little child, who passed away but a few months ago. Mrs. Dexter was the daughter of Mrs. C. C. Carriger and suffered from a lingering illness before her death. She was but 28 years of age and leaves to mourn her beside her husband and mother, her brothers Fred and Harry Carriger and one sister, Miss Lizzie Carriger,

Miss Thomas is a sweet girl and in her white dress made a lovely bride. She was for a long time bookkeeper for F. T. Duhring and has many friends who wish her well.

The groom, Ralph Murphy, is one of Sonoma's leading young business men. He has built an artistic little home for his bride, which has been beautifully furnished and awaits the return of the happy couple from their honeymoon, which is being spent in the Santa Cruz mountains.

BERTHA CAMPBELL IS MARRIED

Former Sonoma Girl Weds Frank Cole in Shanghai

Miss Bertha Campbell, daughter of B. F. Campbell and an attractive and popular girl, was married this week in Shanghai, China, to Frank Cole, a prominent mining engineer. Her father recieved the joyous tidings by cablegram on Wednesday.

Miss Campbell went to Manila about three years ago, where she taught school for some time. She first met the man of her choice, however, in old Sonoma, where they became acquainted at the home of Mrs. C. T. Ryland. Fate brought them together again in foreign lands and the acquaintance begun here ended finally in their engagement there. Last June Mrs. Cole visited her father, returning to Manila in July and from there went to China. Her husband has been at Vladivostok for a big mining syndicate, but recently came to Shanghai, and there they plighted their troth.

Mr. Cole is the only son of the late Dr. Cole of Washington, and was a Stanford man. He is a great friend of Ben Weed and C. T. Ryland, and a young man of high standing in his calling. Bounteous good wishes have gone out over the seas to the fair young bride from her many friends here. She is a girl of noble qualities of heart and mind, and Mr. Cole is to be much congratulated on winning so lovely a wife.

RICH MAN BUYS HOOD RANCH

Ex-Senator Kerens of Utah Buys 1300 Acres in This County.

Ex-Senator Kerens of Utah, a millionaire mining man, has purchased the old Hood ranch near Kenwood. The Senator is associated with Senator Clark of Montana and is a man of much prominence. For several weeks he has been looking about for a fine piece of property and finally settled on the Hood ranch despite the fact that he was much induced to buy Los Angeles real estate. The farm will not be cut up into tracts, but will be improved and made a more handsome piece of property by the owner. Senator Kerens believes Sonoma county has a grand future with its fine climate, electric roads and municipal progress, and he will undoubtedly be the means of interesting much valuable capital in this section.

The price paid by Senator Kerens for the Hood ranch was $65,000.

EL VERANO.

By Happy Hooligan.

Jim Baines has returned to San Francisco.

The town is rapidly filling up with summer guests.

M. F. Mullen received a carload of wheat the fore part of the week.

Joe Herbert and Chef Mace of the Bellevue went to Sonoma Tuesday.

A. Nevraumont of the El Verano Villa was in San Francisco last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Serres and son John were visitors to San Francisco Tuesday.

Max Fenner, the wrestler of San Francisco, is spending a few weeks at the Bellevue Hotel.

Billy Gill, a lieutenant in the San Francisco Fire Department, is at the Bellevue Hotel.

Amele Cornelius was in town the first of the week inspecting the various telephones here.

Mrs. L. D. Batchelor and Miss Sparrow returned from Santa Rosa Monday afternoon.

Leo Baines of this place left for Santa Cruz Tuesday morning, where he will spend a few weeks.

Joe Murphy, El Verano's rising young sport, took in the Corbett-Hanlon fight in San Francisco on Friday.

Samuel Chase, formerly of Sonoma, but now of San Francisco, is spending a few weeks at the Italian boarding house.

L. D. Batchelor and Attorney Minot passed through here Monday afternoon on the S. P. train en route to San Francisco.

Thos. Hooper, better known as "Happy Hooligan" is at the Bellevue. "Happy" is laid up at present with rheumatism, but says that when he gets better he will let 'em know he is in town.

The dance at the El Verano villa last Saturday night was a grand success. Fine music was provided and every one who attended had the jolliest time of the season. Another of these grand times will come off this Saturday night and a big crowd is expected.

The famous 'Roxey Murphy" has again changed hands. Ralph Ent has sold the animal back to the former owner, A. N. Weaver. Ralph says that Roxey was too fast with his hind feet for him and that he decided to let him aim at a larger man next time.

L. Mouyer, our popular constable, has been kept busy for the last week rounding up San Francisco hoodlums, who have been keeping our citizens awake at night by their rowdism. If any of these violators are caught making further disturbance, Constable Mouyer will have them prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Mrs. A. Nevraumont will open an ice cream stand at the El Verano Villa on Sunday next and from then on delicious ice cream can be had at this popular resort. A first-class soda fountain will also be put in and visitors to El Verano will have the pleasure of enjoying ice cold refreshments at popular prices.

Reflections of a Rhinoceros.

I am glad beauty is only skin deep.

Sometimes I wonder what I was made for anyhow.

I hear other animals talking about mosquitoes. What are mosquitoes?

Of all the awkward, ungainly things I ever saw I think the kangaroo in that next cage is the queerest.

It must be awfully unhandy for these two legged creatures they call men to move around. They seem to have only one toe on each foot.

Some day when I have a good chance I'll run my horn through that fellow with the sharp stick that makes me get up and walk around when I'm tired. He knows where my sore spots are.—Chicago Tribune.

Physical Irregularity.

The two sides of a person's face are never alike, according to the Indianapolis News. The eyes are out of line in two cases out of five, and one eye is stronger than the other in seven persons out of ten. The right ear is also, as a rule, higher than the left. Only one person in fifteen has perfect eyes, the largest percentage of defects prevailing among fair haired people. The smallest interval of sound can be distinguished better with one ear than with both. The nails of two fingers never grow with the same rapidity, that of the middle finger growing the fastest, while that of the thumb grows slowest. In fifty-four cases out of a hundred the left leg is shorter than the right.

Felt Insulted.

The beasts were passing in procession for the first time before Adam, that they might receive designations.

The lion was roaring, the tiger snarling and the elephant trumpeting terrifically.

"Why all that noise?" inquired the meek eyed gazelle, who hadn't made a sound.

"Do you expect us to hear ourselves called names without getting mad?" quickly replied the three at once.

Whereupon the gazelle admitted they were not without excuse for anger. — New Orleans Times-Democrat.

His Wit Was Not Heavy.

It was a crowded car, and the thin man looked angrily at his stout neighbor, who occupied two seats and overlapped a third.

"These cars ought to charge by size and weight!" he grumbled to his wife as he pulled his coat out from under the fat man with a vicious twitch.

The fat man gave one calm, unmoved glance at the diminutive figure beside him.

"If they did they'd never stop to let you on, my little man," he said, with a broad smile.

A Lost Opportunity.

Hairlock Combs (the village barber, talkative as usual)—I've noticed, your honor, your whiskers are thicker on the right side than on the left. That's, I take it, because you sleep on that particular side at night?

Baldheaded Customer — What a pity I didn't meet you earlier in life, my friend! I'd have learned to sleep on the crown of my head.

That Tired Feeling.

If you are languid, depressed, incapable for work, it indicates that your liver is out of order. Herbine will assist nature to throw of headaches, rheumatism and ailments akin to nervousness and restore the energies and vitality of sound and perfect health. J. J. Hubbard, Temple, Texas, writes: "I have used Herbine for the past two years. It has done me more good than all the doctors. It is the best medicine ever made for chills and fever." 50c. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

Just What Eyery One Should Do

Mr. S. T. Barber of Irwinville, Ga., always keeps a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand ready for instant use. Attacks of colic, cholera morbus and diarrhoea comes on so suddenly that there is no time to hunt a doctor or go to the store for medicine. Mr. Barber says: "I have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which is one of the best medicines I ever saw. I keep a bottle of it in my room as I have had several attacks of colic and it has proved to be the best medicine I ever used." Sold by L. Shoults & Co.

Contractor P. Maroni is building the new Masonic Temple in Santa Rosa.

Whooping Cough in Jamaica.

Mr. J. Riley Bennett, a chemist of Brown's Town, Jamaica, West India Islands, writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has proved itself to be the best remedy for whooping cough, which is prevalent on this end of the globe. It has never failed to relieve in any case where I have recommended it, and grateful mothers after using it, are daily thanking me for advising them." This remedy is for sale by Shoults & Co.

Pomona Grange met yesterday in Santa Rosa.

Acute Rheumatism.

Deep tearing or wrenching pains, occasioned by getting wet through; worse when at rest, or on first moving the limbs and in cold or damp weather, is cured quickly by Ballard's Snow Liniment. Oscar Oleson, Gibson City, Ill., writes: "A year ago I was troubled with a pain in my back. It soon got so bad I could not bend over. One bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me." Sold by L. S. Simmons.

Fishing in this valley is good—the best this season.

Sprained Ankle, Stiff Neck, Lame Shoulder.

There are three common ailments for which Chamberlain's Pain Balm is especially valuable. If promptly applied it will save you time, money and suffering when troubled with any one of these ailments. For sale by Shoults & Co.

The gross earnings of the new electric road in this county will average about $200,000 this year.

Cuban Diarrhoea.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhoea is almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs of Houston, Tex.: "I hereby certify that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhoea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I thank God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by Shoults & Co.

Cures Old Sores.

Westmoreland, Kans., May 5, 1902: Ballard Snow Liniment Co.: Your Snow Liniment cured an old sore on the side of my chin that was supposed to be a cancer. The sore was stubborn and would not yield to treatment, until I tried Snow Liniment, which did the work in short order. My sister, Mrs. Sophia J. Carson, Allensville, Miffin Co., Pa., has a sore and mistrusts that it is a cancer. Please send her a 75c bottle. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

Have You a Cough.

A dose of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will relieve it. Have you a cold?

Try it for whooping cough, for asthma, for consumption, for bronchitis. Mrs. Joe McGrath, 327 E. 1st street, Hutchinson, Kans., writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup in my family for 5 years and find it the most valuable medicine I ever used." Sold by L. S. Simmons.

ROSE TO THE OCCASION.

The Lady Mrs. Hamilton Fish Called on Was Not at Home.

The late Mrs. Gilbert, the veteran actress, was talking one day in Philadelphia about the time when Hamilton Fish was secretary of state.

"Mr. and Mrs. Fish," she said, "had a grand air, an old fashioned courtesy, that introduced a new note into Washington society. They taught Washington a lesson. They left it a city of better manners and gentler speech than it had been on their entry.

"It has been said that Mrs. Fish sometimes carried her high ideas of courtesy too far. With that stricture I agree heartily. Mrs. Fish's courtesy was quixotic.

"One of her rules, for instance, was to return every call she received. Her husband was continually holding public receptions, and to these, out of courtesy, many women would come who had no desire that Mrs. Fish should call upon them—who were in no position to receive her properly if she did call.

"One such woman attended a Fish reception, left her card and a little later was duly honored with a call from Mrs. Fish.

"It was a beautiful, mild afternoon. The Fish equipage, all a-glitter in the wintry sunshine, dashed down the narrow street and halted before the woman's shabby little house with a musical jingle of silver chains. The footman leaped from the box and opened the carriage door. Mrs. Fish descended.

"The poor woman of the house—where was she all this time? She, alas, was kneeling on the sidewalk beside a bucket of hot water. Her sleeves were rolled back. She had a scrubbing brush in one hand and a cake of soap in the other. She was scrubbing her front steps!

"Imagine how she felt! What would you have done in a predicament so awkward? Would you have been as wise and ready, I wonder, as the woman was?

"Mrs. Fish, bending over her, said graciously:

"'Is Mrs. Henry Smith at home?'

"And Mrs. Henry Smith replied, 'No, mum, she ain't,' and went on scrubbing."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Frost Fishing.

Catching fish without hook, bait or net may seem to inlanders almost an impossibility. Such fishing may be seen on the Atlantic coast nightly in winter near New York, and a species of the finny family most succulent and toothsome is secured by the thousands during the winter season in this way.

The little frost fish come in near shore to feed at the half tide, but the powerful rollers, catching them, toss them upon the sand, where they lie gasping and struggling until a succeeding roller carries them safely back into the icy green seas unless some skillful hand lifts the little frost fish into a clam basket. Meanwhile barrels and baskets, bags and wagons innumerable are being filled to overflowing as wave after wave flings the fish upon the sand.—New York Herald.
